

What Can TIES Do For You?

TIES is the districts new data warehouse that we will now use in place of Viewpoint (you can still access Viewpoint this year.) There are many uses for TIES in your very own classroom! Below, you will find some helpful hints and tools as to how you can use TIES to your advantage in your classroom instruction.

- Login and choose your role as a teacher.
- You will find the One-Click Reports will be your default opening page.

1. In your one-click reports, you can do many things. You can look at all or sections of your students and view their test scores from the past and present.

2. Simply click on the test you would like to see and voila! You now get a picture of how your students are in their proficiency of math and reading!

On the top of the page, you will see a toolbar. This toolbar will take you to more places in TIES to help you look at even more data! You can use this to help you look at a specific student if you'd like. To do that, Click on "Search."

Personalized Learning will help you to view plans and/or comments that have been added about students, mainly students of concern. As of now, counselors, administrators and EIT/RTI teams are adding plans and comments, but you as a teacher of that student are allowed to see that information and add comments. If a student of yours has been added, you will be notified by email so that you may view the comments.

Personalized Learning

Student:

Personalized Learning provides detailed information about student performance and focal points, as well as a comment log for discussion.

E-mail me about changes to this student's comments or plan.
